Litterbugs

Although he drives a handsome car
A dump truck would seem fitter.
Instead of using litter bags
He spoils the street with litter.
—Tennyson Mabie

Amplifying the above, doesn't everyone who buys a handsome car, home, or anything else do so in hope it will command the respect of others? Yet who can respect anyone who does not respect the law and feelings of his neighbors?

Litterbugs are contemptuous of both, yet some of them are so stupid they can't understand why they are disliked.

In building a reputation, nothing pays better than consideration and thoughtfulness for others.

HAVING CONFESSED to conspiracy illegally to fix prices, the 29 giant electrical companies seem to feel the Kefauver Committee should forgive and forget the details. Electrical companies urge the public to use plenty of light, but hate like the dickens to have Congress turn the light on them.

SALE OF TOY pistols alone proves there are far too many outlaws in television.

I SUSPECT that the best thing television has done for this country is convince millions of persons that the way to save their teeth is to brush them after every meal.

I also suspect that if those millions began early, and used only plain water instead of highly-promoted dentifrices, and not only brushed after every meal but refrained from candies, cookies and soft drinks between meals, the result would be much the same.

But I don't expect that ever to happen. It would be almost un-American to deny our children more candies, cookies and soft drinks than are good for them, and our dentists are so good we feel we can count on them to repair the damage.

INDEED, it isn't human to sidestep all the things that are not good for us to do. The fact that they are somewhat dangerous lends them fascination, and warnings against them stir our curiosity.

For example, we're all taught that for nothing, yet every day artists trick multitudes of us.

Just last week two more trust deed companies which promised "10 per cent with safety" were declared to be bankrupt. Nine-tenths of their victims were persons who should have known better.

In San Diego promoters of a stock selling scheme were indicted for misappropriating $248,000.

Cupidity makes all of us more or less like the honest farmer who was asked if he had ever bought a gold brick and hopefully replied: "Not yet. But I'm saving up my money."

New School
Is Started

Actual work on the new St. Rita's School was started this week, with steel on hand and the pouring of concrete due the week ends. The new school is being erected on the church property on N. Baldwin between Olive and Alegria. It is hoped to have it completed for occupancy when school opens in the fall.

Young Diver Hurt

George (Buddy) Nations Jr., son of the proprietors of the Royal Fountain Grill, suffered a fractured ear drum last week following diving at Pasadena High School which he attends. Young Nations' promising career as a diver probably is cut short despite the fact that the ear is mending.

Large Crowds

Volumes Given Put
At 4,000

Sierra Madre's Friends of the Library realized more than $2,200 during the annual three-day book sale last week, making it the most successful venture to date.

Contributed for sale were 4,000 volumes of which the library selected 525 for its own use. Librarian Mrs. Josephine Terry valued these at $1,837.50 or $3.50 each.

Cash sales, including sales of refreshments as well as books, reached $377.28.

A large crowd attended the pre-sale Thursday evening for Sierra Madreans only, and business was steady both Friday and Saturday.

DESPITE the rain, about 75 youngsters attended the children's program Saturday morning. The creative arts display was held in the children's room, while folk singing was in the lower level room. The puppet show and folk dancing, scheduled to be held outside, was canceled because of the rain.

About 65 dozen cookies, donated by Camp Fire and Girl Scout troops, were sold during the sale.

Surplus paperback books and condensationes were donated by the Friends to the Red Cross for use in veterans' hospitals. Other unsold volumes were given to the Salvation Army.

MRS. BARNEY TUMILTY, sale chairman, thanked everyone who helped make the sale a success, particularly Mrs. James Rogers, Norma Rannie, Tommy Ann Miller, Jane Anderson and Charlotte Smith, all of whom created scenes of Sierra Madre which were displayed during the event, and the Sierra Madre News for its publicity for the event.

She also expressed appreciation for the work done by Mrs. Jane Morse and her Creative Arts group.

"The patronage and help of everybody concerned was most welcome," said Mrs. Tumilty. "We shall all derive pleasure from the books contributed to our library."

Little League Will Open Next Saturday

Greg Mulleavy, Los Angeles Dodgers coach, will highlight the Sierra Madre Little League opening day program for ensuing year. From 9:30 a.m., at Heasley Field.

Greg has had a colorful career in baseball, having played 78 games with the White Sox, from 1930 to 1932. In 1934 he went with the Oakland Oaks, and batted 321 that year. His teams won five pennants, including the International League Flag in 1955 when he managed the Montreal team.

In 1957 he joined the coaching staff of the Dodgers, and presently is a scout on special assignment. Mulleavy will throw out the first ball, and speak on baseball's contributions to the building of healthy young men. Greg lives in Arcadia, and has a cousin, Perry Mulleavy, playing with the Sierra Madre Dodgers.

The new Jim Heasley Building will be dedicated by Bert Menne, president Sierra Madre Baseball Association, honoring Jim Heasley, who as a past member of our Sierra Madre Fire Department and chief, pioneered and worked untiringly for the youth of Sierra Madre.

Dean Irvin, president of Little League, will present the sponsors — Arnolds, Roess's Market, Foxton's Service, 7-Up Bottling Co., Ost's Nursery, Toy & Patio Village and Hartman's Drug, and the Little League managers, coaches and players.

Paul Westman, vice president, will introduce the sponsors of the Minor League: Roberts Market, Royal Drug, Civic Club, Sierra Cycle Shop, Ralphs Shoes and Don Jacksons, along with the managers, catches and players of Minor League teams.

MRS. JIM HEASLEY will draw the lucky ticket for four seats to a Los Angeles Dodger game, and Virginia Lighthizer, president Sierra Madre Woman's Baseball Auxiliary, will award the tickets to a Los Angeles Angels game, to the boys who sold the most tickets during the raffle to raise money for the Baseball Association.

Gene Bell, players agent, will be master of ceremonies, and the Boy Scout Troop No. 373 of the Congregational Church will present the colors.

All parents and citizens are invited and encouraged to attend this important event, and send the boys off with best wishes and support of everyone.

In presenting the award to Mrs. Cotter, Miss Emily Jones, executive director of the National Education Association, cited "Learning to Look" as the year's most outstanding audio-visual production.

Shippey's Article
Stirring Council

Following is the Lee Shippey article which Councilman Severin L. Sorensen read in its entirety Tuesday night and which stirred Council to reject the plea of Prescott Builders for an extension of time in the subdivision battle which Toyon Rd. property owners have waged for more than 15 months:

The impressive thing about the Battle of Toyon Rd., to me, is its evidence that a small but gallant band of citizens can, by pulling together, do things which may benefit an entire city.

And now that I no longer own property on Toyon Rd., I cannot resist commenting on their fight.

As I remember it, only 100 feet of Toyon Rd. is dedicated to the city, and only six families live on the undedicated part.

Years ago we who lived there got together, under leadership of Rollins Lewis, and paid for paving of the street. But we still had to pay taxes on it because it was not dedicated.

Through the years that I believe, firmly established the ownership of the street in the property owners, a friendly group inclined to be neighborly and agree to anything they did not believe was injurious to them and to the city.

When they felt a proposed subdivision threatened their rights and the proper development of the city, they did not just lie down and roll over; they stood up and fought. They may not get all they fought for, but apparently they will get much more than was offered at first, and the modification will benefit the entire city.

ONE BENEFIT to the entire city — and perhaps to all Southern California — is the ordinance covering development of hillside areas. I understand that other cities are studying the ordinance with a view to adapting it to their needs. Heaven knows plenty of cities and neighborhoods have been injured by careless development of hillside areas, even including such swanky places as Palos Verdes and Pacific Palisades.

Any hillside area may be in for slides and slippages if lots are too small or too cut up by streets and driveways which alter the face of nature. In the 30 years we lived on Toyon Rd. we never had any flood damage, even when gouging torrents were roaring down Lima and Auburn, simply because north of Toyon Rd. nature had been little disturbed.

In this rainless year it is difficult to think of floods, but all of us old-timers can remember some dillies.

It would be wise to keep Sierra Madre safe that if it ever does rain again the poor Palisadians and Palos Verdians whose homes go tumbling down like the walls of Jericho will have a safe place to move to.

Coordinating Council
Will Hear Candidates

Candidates for election to the Pasadena School Board have been invited to speak at the next meeting of the Coordinating Council which will be co-sponsored by PTA.

The meeting will be held on Wednesday, May 10, at 8 p.m. at the Sierra Mesa School. There will be no Coordinating Council meeting on the first Tuesday in May due to this special meeting.

A moderator from the League of Women Voters will be present to conduct the proceedings and the question period to follow.

To date, three incumbents and four others have filed for the election which takes place Friday, June 2.

IN ADDITION to hearing the candidates, the further business of the meeting will be the installation of officers of the newly elected board of the Coordinating Council for 1961-1962.

Council Votes Short
Suffolk St. Opening

Councilman Severin L. Sorensen spun an intense moment of sheer, exciting and high drama at Tuesday night's City Council meeting, providing another victory for the embattled Toyon Rd. property owners.

Whether they ultimately win their 15-month-old struggle they have so gallantly waged against Prescott Builders, a Pasadena subdivider, depends largely upon the courts.

But for one moment, at least, they tasted the fruits of victory when Council, stirred by Councilman Sorensen's dramatic plea in which he read the article on Toyon Rd. by Columnist Lee Shippey in last week's SIERRA MADRE NEWS, rebuffed Prescott Builders by refusing the time extension their counsel, Atty. Thomas Garcon, requested.

(The Lee Shippey article is reprinted in an adjoining column.)

Atty. Garcon wanted a year's extension in which to present an adequate map of the subdivision, this to bridge the time pending while the District Court of Appeals, Appellate Division, rules on the city's temporary writ of injunction against the subdivider.

Prescott Builders has sought to make the city co-plaintiff in their suit in Superior Court to oust the Toyon Rd. property owners from land they own and which provides the only feasible entry into the Prescott subdivision. Toyon Rd. property owners have contended that the entire subdivision is badly planned and a source of danger to the city, especially during flood times.

City Atty. Charles R. Martin had obtained the temporary writ of prohibition in the Appellate Division which presently enjoins Prescott Builders and which also orders the Superior Court to show cause why it should hear the condemnation suits.

The nub of the situation is that Prescott Builders must, by law, submit a completed map by May 10, a year after they were granted subdivision rights.

IF THEY LOST the court decision they still have recourse to a suit of mandamus to compel the city to act with them against the property owners. If they win they can go ahead with the Superior Court condemnation suits and the city must become co-plaintiff against its own people.

However, there is a question whether if the Appellate Division's decision is against them that the court would entertain such a mandamus suit.

There was applause aplenty as Councilman Sorensen read the Shippey article and as he declared that "this expresses the feeling of this community on what needs to be done."

Council's vote was unanimous, Councilman Lorraine W. Lisle making the motion with Councilman James F. Abernethy seconding.

THE COUNCIL DECIDED to open Suffolk St., from N. Baldwin where the new post office will be constructed, through to the First Western Bank Building, and to leave opening of the rest of the street through the Hansen and Over properties to a later date.

This followed its rejection of the terms of Carl Hansen who offered through-way on his property for $1,500, and a variance on one of the two tracts he owns and which would afford him building sites.

The move, also fathened by Councilman Sorensen, leaves Hansen completely out of the improvement district.

Chief Gordon G. McMillan opposed any installation of reflectorized warnings at — Turn to Page 8

City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington blamed this on the contractor who, he said, violated all rules of proper procedure.

A hearing on the Yarnell request for a conditional use permit to operate a rest home on the northeast intersection of Mountain Trail and E. Sierra Madre Blvd. will be held May 23. The Planning Commission had rejected the request but had granted zone changes on some of the property from R-1 to R-3. Many adjoining property owners have opposed the move to establish a rest home at this location.

Wally Boyko was engaged as engineering aide at $461 a month.

The Woman's Club Card Party, last Wednesday, was a lovely affair. Mrs. Wade, Sr. and Mrs. Blanche Meek were co-chairmen of the party attended by approximately 60 women. The proceeds will go to the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Squad and to the Orthopedic Foundation of Childrens Hospital in Los Angeles. President Mrs. Ed. Beutler came home with one of the door prizes as did Mrs. Clinton Symonds and Mrs. Cathy Elliott.

SATURDAY WAS an especially happy day for St. Rita's 2nd graders. It was their First Communion Day, and it's difficult to say which were more thrilled, parents or children. Speaking of St. Rita's, the long anticipated addition to the school has been started on Baldwin and Olive. Eight classrooms will be built by the E & T Construction Co., Arnet and Davis architects. They hope to have the rooms ready for students next September.

ARCADIA ASSISTANCE LEAGUE'S "Tinderbox" provided a gay and happy afternoon for a capacity house last Saturday. The production, put on by a group of Whittier High School students, was completely professional. The young "Busy Bluebird" troop of Sierra Mesa attended as did Elizabeth Cheadle with all her 7th birthday anniversary guests.

KAY AND RALPH RULE journeyed into Los Angeles Saturday night for the Promenade Concert and report it fabulous. The same concert will be given in Pasadena this Saturday night. Thoroughly enjoying "Merry Widow" at the Philharmonic one night last week were the Jim Burkes and the Harry Dietrichs. I've heard and read nothing but raves about this production. Can't wait to see it.

G. K. SIMMONS, of 251 W. Montecito, and Leland Marsh, 657 W. Grand View, have returned from a two-day tour of Arizona, inspecting land.

FRIENDS OF GORDON ZAHLER will be interested to learn of his recent departure for Europe on a combination business and pleasure trip. His sister, Muriel Jacobs, and Mrs. Eloise Murphy saw him aboard the SAS flight to Europe.

REMEMBER THE Mount Alverno Home Tour May 3. The theme is "Wedding Bells." Some of the loveliest homes in the area will be on display, beautifully decorated. "Bridal Shower," "Bachelor Party," "Wedding Party" and "Golden Wedding." So come along and get in that June mood!

THE FRIENDSHIP CLUB, always civic-minded, at its recent meeting voted to plant a purple lilac tree in Sierra Madre Memorial Park. Coming from Mrs. Julia Henscey's garden, it will be planted on May Day.

THE MASONS pitched in wholeheartedly, as always, to help make Public Schools Week an outstanding success. One of the events was the Masonic dinner Saturday night at which teachers and poster contestants among school pupils were special guests. Pictured are Larry Lomax, lodge master; Miss Betty Newton, Douglas Berkshire and Mrs. Myrtle Heasley, who was named "Teacher of the Year," and presented with a bouquet. (See story on Page One.)

Hastings Hill

By Joyce Wenger
SY. 8-4777

To any readers still with me after last week's fiasco, my sincere apology. The garbled column that appeared last week was not exactly the way I wrote it, in fact, I wish I could say I hadn't written it at all!

The explanation is really quite simple, though perhaps a mite unbelievable. Seems this column's type was accidentally dropped just as the page was about to go to press.

Realizing there wasn't time to unscramble the mess completely, and in the tradition of the true newspaper publisher, with an eye on a pressing deadline, the editor, regrettably I hope, gave the press room the order to "Roll it!"

In all newspaper plants there is a "hell box," where old and unused type is thrown. Frankly, I've had the feeling both the column and myself have been there all week. I hope this explanation will suffice for all the organizations and individuals who were kind enough to give me news, then quite understandably wondered—what happen?

IT'S ALWAYS a pleasure to report on the outstanding youth in our community. At the recent Science Fair at Marshall Junior High, Keith Edwards and Rubin Epstein won outstanding awards, and Sandra Scott honorable mention.

The ten winners from Marshall were invited to compete in the San Gabriel Valley Science Fair, and it was there that Keith Edwards won the second highest award in the Junior Division.

That is really terrific—since there are only a total of four awards given in the combined physical and biological sciences in the Junior Division.

Keith will be one of the guests of honor at the Awards Dinner at Caltech and will compete in the Southern California Science Fair to be held at the Ventura County Fair Grounds, May 8-12.

I think it's especially noteworthy that these three seventh graders are Don Benito graduates, who took the initiative to study and work out their exhibits entirely on their own, and are not in a science class this year.

Keith built a 75,000-volt X-ray machine, and it works! Rubin's exhibit illustrated the existence of molds and bacteria in our everyday life. Sandra's exhibit showed the growth of silk worms. Congratulations, Keith, Rubin and Sandra.

LAS COMPENAS members meet Wednesday, May 3, for a luncheon and business meeting at the North Woods Restaurant. Election of officers is high on the agenda.

HASTINGS RANCH Section Needlework Guild of America will meet at the home of Mrs. C. W. Davis, 1270 Rexford, at 11 a.m. today. Mmes. Ralph Anderson, Frank White and Ernest Wenberg are hostesses.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA Alumnae of Pasadena and Arcadia really iced the cake when they presented fashions by six noted American designers—plush fashions from yesteryear modeled by pretty teenage Kappa daughters.

It was a delightful luncheon benefit for Pasadena Child Guidance Clinic and Kappa Scholarships, and I was ooh so happy to have been invited!

The Turf Club was beautifully decorated and so were those attending, who included Mmes. Dwight Kendall, L. E. Wilson, Walter Lord, Robert Swenson, Robert Norwood, John R. Chapman (last year's prexy), and Mrs. Joe Mangan. The latter was stunningly attired in an Italian silk dress and matching shoes that should turn the head of any designer.

Except for one creation that I'm sure was designed for Dracula's bride, all were simple, but elegantly done to perfection.

LOCAL GARDEN club members are busy arranging elaborate displays which we can all enjoy May 5, 6 and 7, at the Arboretum. It will be the fourth annual spring flower show sponsored by the California Garden Clubs, Inc., and from the details I've heard, should be a dandy!

Hastings Ranch Garden Club has been assigned a patio-lanai garden of the Sunset Demonstration gardens, and will use the theme "Desert Rendezvous." Sounds intriguing and cozy. Planning committee members are Mmes. Paul A. Hart, Vern Harding, Even Whitlock, John Zeman. They will, of course, be assisted by all the club members.

LAS JARDINERAS Home and Garden Club has been assigned a spot in the children's play area, and has a wonderful ship to inspire its theme, "Treasure Island." Mrs. Wayne Brannon is chairman of this project and will be assisted by Mmes. Charles Hurter, Charles Coates, Barton Steed, Peter Lubitsch, Draper Jennings, Russell Pooler, Marvin Loomis, John Morris, C. R. Miller, Kenneth McClinton and Jack Washburn.

TRAVEL NEWS: Ed and Flo Barnes are off to Europe! They'll fly the Polar Route SAS to Copenhagen, spend six weeks seeing all the sights of the major capitals on the Continent. Their itinerary also includes the Scandinavian countries, the Riviera, and London. I enjoyed Flo's performance in the Field show, "Goin' Places," and obviously she really is!

LAST CALL for grease, paper and rags! That announcement from Field PTA is ooh so welcome at our home. At last the cans of grease in the refrigerator and the stacks of newspapers overflowing the garage will be banished!

Two gals deserving credit for coordinating the drives are Mrs. Wayne Brannon and Mrs. Howard Sitzer.

Dates to unload your grease are May 2, 3 and 4. Paper and rags May 13. The above may not read like a choice social item for this column, but I'll wager most of you will gladly mark your calendars accordingly.

ROSEMARY Cottage Guild, of which there seem to be many supporting groups in our area, will hold its second annual benefit May 4 at the Women's City Club in Pasadena. Dr. Edward Stainbrook will lecture and tickets may be reserved by calling SY. 9-4577.

YOGI, ANYONE? Interest in learning Yogi seems to be sweeping the hill. Anne McKnight and Celesta Goesline presently teach a class of ten, and will soon extend their knowledge to the Highlands and the Villa areas. Anne's phone number is SY. 3-5227, in case you're so inclined.

Mrs. Blakely President of Benito PTA

Mrs. William Blakely has been elected president of the Don Benito PTA for the school year 1960-62. She is the mother of two children, Tommy, in third grade, and Steven, 3.

Mrs. Blakely is presently historian of the PTA and has served as library chairman and room mother.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. Victor Harris, first vice president (program); Mrs. George Fasching, second vice president (budget and finance); Mrs. H. Alfred Dunn, third vice president (ways and means); Robert Stanaway, fourth vice president (men's activities); Mrs. Fred Sawyer, fifth vice president (room representative chairman); Miss Sona Markarian, sixth vice president (faculty representative); Mrs. John Norris, recording secretary; Mrs. Allen Pulsifer, corresponding secretary; Robert Everhart, treasurer, and Mrs. Donald Kenmouth, historian.

REPRESENTING the Don Benito Association at the PTA State Convention in Los Angeles May 3, 4 and 5 will be Mrs. Blakely and Mrs. Harris.

Others from Don Benito who will attend special events will be Messrs. Edward Shutman, principal; Robert Everhart and Robert Stanaway, Men's Dinner at the Statler Hotel on Thursday, May 4; Mrs. H. Alfred Dunn, Friday general session, and Mrs. Chester Mayo, now serving as Music Chairman of First District, CCPT, who will attend the Mothersingers' banquet May 4 and sing with the group that evening before the convention delegates.

Advantages of Early Medical Attention During Pregnancy

By Roy O. Gilbert, M.D.
Los Angeles County Health Officer

Compared to many other countries in the world, the United States has a most unsatisfactory record in infant mortality. The infant mortality rate—the number of babies who die under one year of age out of every 1,000 born alive—was a low 15.8 for Sweden in 1958, compared with 27.1 for the United States.

During the same year, the rate for the Los Angeles County Health Department jurisdiction for 25-0, and this was reduced in 1959 to 22.7.

However, since 1950, the United States has slipped from sixth to ninth place among nations in prevention of infant deaths. There are a number of reasons for this, but chief among them seems to be the lack of proper medical care during pregnancy.

A long step toward lowering infant mortality could be taken if every expectant mother would obtain medical care early in her pregnancy, and continue under regular supervision until the baby is born. When this is done, any unusual condition of mother or baby can be detected early and frequently corrected so that the pregnancy may go to a normal full term.

PREMATURITY, which is the termination of pregnancy before the full nine-month period, is responsible for a high proportion of stillbirths and infant deaths and has been called by some medical authorities the nation's number one health problem.

A study was recently made of 3,165 confinements that took place in the Los Angeles County General Hospital. It was found that those mothers who did not have adequate prenatal care had a higher proportion of premature infants. Even among full-term infants, a higher percentage of stillbirths and deaths in the first weeks of life were found when the mothers did not have early prenatal care.

However, these facts are not new. The study simply confirms that prematurity, stillbirths and early infant deaths are more frequent in the absence of prenatal care. What the study may show that has not hitherto been stressed, perhaps, are the reasons why prenatal care was lacking. Physicians are well aware of the importance of early prenatal care, but some women are not, as many apparently trivial reasons are given for failure to obtain care.

I wish to thank each and every one for blood donated to my husband, Willie Bates, especially the president and members of the Lions Club. —Mrs. Willie Bates.

trition is included in all prenatal programs, for it has been demonstrated that the expectant mother on an adequate nutritional diet is less likely to develop complications that may result in the premature birth of the baby.

THE MEDICAL CARE of maternity patients in local public health clinics is followed by an examination of the mother six weeks after the baby is born for possible conditions that may result in later difficulty unless corrected. These mothers are encouraged to attend local well baby conferences in order that the child may continue under medical supervision during the first years of life.

Members Capture Awards At Verdugo District Meeting Trade Topic For Women

Members of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club attending the Verdugo District Federation CFWC Convention at the Huntington-Sheraton in Pasadena, Thursday and Friday, came home with several awards.

Mrs. Lydia Maricq received two awards for paintings and the club received an award in literature and a certificate from Meals For Millions Foundation.

Those attending were Mrs. Ethel Harris, Mrs. Henry Wade, Sr., Mrs. A. C. Bonn, Mrs. Grace Vane, Mrs. Walter D. Thurber, Mrs. A. S. Meyers, Mrs. Arthur Maricq, Miss Clara Sykes, Mrs. Henry Wade, Jr. and Miss Ruth West.

The club also won recognition by giving a plantation of 6,800 trees in the Angeles National Forest in memory of the founders of the club.

Trade Topic For Women

Sierra Madreams are invited to a public meeting sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Monrovia and Arcadia on May 3 at 8 p.m. at Clifton Auditorium, 227 E. Palm Ave., Monrovia. A panel of experts will discuss "Can the United States Meet the World Economic Challenge?"

Speakers will be Dr. Alan Sweezy, professor of economics at California Institute of Technology; Henry Kearns, former assistant secretary of Commerce in the Eisenhower Administration;

Dr. J. Cudd Brown, professor of political science at Occidental College, and John Donovan, representative of the Western Conference of Printing Specialists.

Some of the questions to be explored are: How does the growing use of foreign goods affect American business and labor? Can we compete in world trade and maintain our living standards? How can U.S. foreign economic policy work to influence uncommitted nations to our views?

There will be no admission charge. Mrs. John P. Meehan Jr. is president of the Arcadia League, and Mrs. Gordon Beatty president of the Monrovia unit.

VILLA VIEWS

By Toni Maurin
SY. 7-9634

I don't think there is anything worse than the people who make fools of themselves over pets. An ornithologist I am not. Matter of fact, the only way I like birds is to just look at them from a distance.

I break out in a cold clammy sweat when some one's pet bird tries to use my head for a roost. I respect them, but they can keep their distance as far as I am concerned.

However, my son has a bird.

His or her latest trick is to imitate my typewriter and darned if that bird can't type faster than I can. I tell you you've got to be on guard all of the time; you never know where you're going to find competition.

MRS. T. H. HORN of Pasadena Glenn was hostess for her bridge club recently at a luncheon. Her guests were Mmes. George Berger, Robert Eriksson, Daniel Rogers, Frank Williams, Jack Archer, David Wyman and William Huse.

MRS. JACK PASCHALL of Sierra Madre Villa was section leader of the recently completed American Cancer Society drive. Through the efforts of all of her unit leaders and their workers they went well over their quota this year.

She issues a special thanks to all of those who worked so tirelessly to make the drive a success and to particularly mention the seven unit leaders: Mmes. Cleto Dorsey, Joseph Mangan, August Chiary, John Morris, Draper Jennings, Samuel Joseph and Robert Fey.

THERE IS NOTHING I love more than a party, unless it is a party for me. Mr. and Mrs. John Eppard of Fairpoint surprised us with a "Green With Envy" goingaway party which took us right off our feet.

In addition to having travel posters all over the house, the group gave us lots of clever going-away gifts all wrapped in green paper.

The party included Messrs. and Mmes. George Clark, Carl Mounteer, Charles Klingerman, Ralph Paquette, Arturo Gutierrez, Ben Rogers, George Amthor and A. J. Huber. It was a ball and we both thank you one and all.

THERE HAVE BEEN several parties on the hill to honor Mrs. Donald Loynd (the former Mrs. Joey Zook). They had a small family wedding on March 31. Mr. Loynd is formerly from Balboa. They are presently living on Trevan Rd.

On the week of their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. John Griffith of Mesita Rd. honored them with a dinner party that included Mr. and Mrs. John Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. John Biffar Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schram, Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Fox and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Siechert.

Last Friday, Mrs. Kenneth Christianson of Sierra Madre had a bridge luncheon to honor the bride. Her guests were Mmes. Robert Baugh, William Baugh, Richard Fox, John Griffith, Paul Siechert, John Senour and George Otte.

One of more than a dozen Family Life Institutes being held simultaneously in strategic locations of Southern California, this assembly will include as participants the churches from Sierra Madre, Arcadia, El Monte, La Canada, South San Gabriel and Temple City.

Theme will be "God Trains His People Through the Home," having as its purpose strengthening of the Christian home and aiding of the home in the solution of its problems.

SEPARATE group lecture-and-discussion sessions are planned for children, teenagers, college age, young adults, middle adults, and senior citizens. These sessions will consider the respective responsibilities in the home.

A panel, with audience discussion to follow, will consider the question, "Which is more important—teaching or training—in the home?" There will be a family movie for all and an exhibit of Christian family life books and aids.

In the 10:30 church worship service Sunday morning, Rev. Armin Hesse will speak on "The Guide Into All Truth." The message will stress the vital work of the Holy Spirit in the Christian's spiritual perception and understanding of God's revelation, the Bible.

"When We Change Our Lives" is the sermon-topic of Dr. Ethel Barnhart at the 11 a.m. worship service, Sunday, April 30, at Santa Anita Church of Religious Science, 226 W. Colorado Blvd., Arcadia. Dr. Barnhart will discuss how God has equipped man with the power to change his life by changing himself. Through understanding, man no longer needs to be a victim of circumstances.

Graded classes for children through eighth grade are held every Sunday at 11 a.m. These graded classes of the Junior Church are directed by Lee and Evelyn Kingsbury.

Every Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock, a healing meeting is conducted at the church and special requests receive group prayer. These meetings are open to the public.

On Tuesday, May 2, at 8 p.m., a special illustrated lecture, "My Search for the Disciples," will be presented at the church by Sune Richards. Mrs. Richards spent seven years making a series of photographic portraits of Jesus' Disciples, using people from everyday walks of life in whose faces she saw the qualities that seemed to be symbolic of the disciples. Her work has received national acclaim.

"What may start as a lecture, concludes as a profound, moving experience for everyone," is the report of those who have heard Mrs. Richards. The public is cordially invited. There will be a free-will offering.

News of the Churches

DEVOUT PARISHIONERS of Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church gather at the location of the new church at Santa Anita Ave. and Foothill Blvd. in Arcadia, just outside of Sierra Madre. Here we see the new plot being consecrated, with Rev. Ray E. Hansen, the pastor, officiating. The congregation has been worshipping in the Masonic Temple at 33 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., and will continue until the new sanctuary is complete.

Shepherd of Hills Drive Successful

Building of first units of the new church for Shepherd of the Hills Lutherans is assured by the overwhelming success of the stewardship campaign of the congregation, Roger M. Kelley, general chairman, announces. He said that more than $30,000 will be realized as a result of the drive still in progress, exceeding the top goal of $28,000.

The congregation, a member of the United Lutheran Church in America, plans to build this year on its site at Santa Anita Ave. and Foothill Blvd. in Arcadia. Financial help from the parent church will supplement the funds raised locally.

Responses from members and friends of the church are overwhelming, Kelley said. He added that anyone not contacted who desires to contribute may do so by notifying the church.

PLANS FOR development of the site are being drawn by the architect, Earl G. Brooks of Encino. Ground-breaking and construction will begin later this year.

The congregation, which will mark its third anniversary in May, now worships in the Masonic Temple in Sierra Madre. A Thanksgiving Worship is set for 10:30 a.m. Sunday, April 30, to climax the building campaign.

"We Have the Spirit" will be the sermon of Rev. Ray E. Hansen, pastor. Co-operating with Kelley in the campaign are these general committee chairmen: Ernest A. Echstein, advance visits; Frank Distel, organization chairman; Bernard Varney, audit and survey; Herbert I. Chambers, proposal chairman; Henry R. Nelson and Robert E. Vogel, division leaders; Dr. Richard Kramb, Ted Huettis, Charles E. Markham and Carl R. Lotze, captains; Mrs. Dorothy Vogel, chief hostess; Mrs. Inez R. Haupt, dinner arrangements; Donald W. Dewey, publicity, and Miss Sally Rae Ryan, campaign secretary. The drive is directed by Lawrence A. Henninger of the Lutheran Laymen's Movement for Stewardship.

Initial construction plans call for a chapel, Sunday School and fellowship facilities, church office and parking areas.

By Sierra Engineering

There can be nothing but commendation and—much thankfulness—by all progressive-minded Sierra Madreans in the industrial breakthrough by Sierra Engineering in announcing that its $365,000 expansion program has been started.

Important to this "Little Foothill City of Livability" is the fact that the addition to the facilities of this alertly-conducted industry will double its working force to 400 and create an annual payroll of $2 million.

Equally vital is the comforting thought that H. L. Daulton, its president and chairman of the board, and his associates have created in this city an industry of formidable proportions, one that is constantly growing and which already is world-wide known.

"Made in Sierra Madre" stamped on Sierra Engineering products now, more than ever, means something.

'The World Stood Still'

*"Once on a high and windy hill,
In the morning mist,
Two lovers kissed,
And the world stood still."*

There is the kernel of a valuable, even precious thought in this couplet from a popular song, one that we can take home to our hearts, comfortingly so, in these troubled, strife-torn days—and cherish.

It is that despite Mr. K. and his pals, Messrs. Mao and Castro, despite the West Berlin, Laotian, Cuban and Congo crises, alarms and rumors of alarms, the sometimes terrifying aspect of space adventure for earth people, of adult and juvenile crime, crookedness in high places—what an indictment of humanity all this is?—despite all this, the love of a boy and a girl, a man and a woman, an old man and his helpmeet, will prevail and persist.

Aye, "two lovers kissed and the world stood still." It still does, and that coupled with the love for and of God, is good.

No Middle Ground

Legislation approved by the Assembly at Sacramento requiring group meetings in California school buildings to sign a statement that they don't intend to break the law should receive the approval of all loyal Americans in this state.

The statement of Assemblyman Bruce V. Reagan, Pasadena Republican, in backing the bill, that "there is a continuous, steady, insidious effort to expand the Communist philosophy throughout the state and nation," is food for serious consideration, as is his contention that "this is a question whether you are in favor of encouraging the activities of enemies of our government, or against encouraging them."

Assemblyman Reagan hit the nail square on the head. As this newspaper has repeatedly pointed out, these are times when it is useful for every American to stand up and be counted. Either you are for America and against Communism or you are for Communism and against America: There is no middle ground.

Blessed Chantry Flats

By Sewall Clark

You wish we had a messenger service here? Taxi? Please, now. Don't work yourself into a lather. The answer is decidedly simple. Move to Chantry Flats.

Where is this Chantry Flats? Heavens-to-Betsy, you amaze me. It's right up the mountain from here. They have a pack station there, complete with four-legged animals; fine creatures carrying food and messages and other utilities to people who need their help; people who are only too glad to pay in return with food and shelter and money and sometimes even a pat on the cheek just to show a little love and appreciation.

They have a lot more than that, up there at Chantry Flats. Besides a forestry and fire-control station they have a bunch of fine boys who are members of Sierra Madre's Search and Rescue Crew.

WHEN I SAY "BOYS" I mean these are real mountain-earmen; they don't play around with formalities; they're just the guys who go out and save your life when you're hanging on the edge of a cliff. You read about them every now and then, in newspapers and magazines throughout the country.

Their names? Bill Wark, Fred La Lone, Bill Adams and Red Shangraw and Herrick—and I wish I knew the full names and the correct spelling of all of them, but they don't go in for names. They are just a group of modest guys who go out to get the job done when it's there to be done.

So you're screaming for a taxi in Sierra Madre? Don't waste your time. Move to Chantry Flats, up the mountain, and call for a donkey or a burro. They have good mules there, too.

Our Taxes Top New York's

California is not the largest industrial state in our nation, nor does it yet have the largest population, but our residents are carrying the heaviest, penalizing tax burden. State and local per capita taxes as of April 1, 1960, were $265 for each man, woman and child in California.

The highest per capita tax of any of the major industrial states even topped New York. And California's soaring budget for 1960-61 was $462 million greater than that of the Empire State. Furthermore the 1961-62 budget will be even larger.

California taxpayers had to pay more than New York

OUT OF
THE COWBEES

53 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, April 24, 1908—Sierra Madre has just cause for being proud of her first year as an incorporated city. The showing made by the city officials in their annual report is most gratifying. Not only does the accounting department of the city show a balance on the right side of the ledger, but the itemized statements indicate good business management in the expenditure of public funds. The means at the disposal of the trustees during the first year were somewhat limited. But they have gone about their business without making a lot of noise about it, and every cent that has been spent has been satisfactorily accounted for.

Misses Flora and Daisy Vannier have returned to their home here after a year spent in the East.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. G. Twycross have been spending the week at their Ocean Park Cottage and enjoying the festivities of Fleet Week.

20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, April 24, 1941—Edwin Waldo Ward, 78, one of Sierra Madre's best known citizens who during his life-time was known as one of the most prominent salesmen of the country as representative of the James F. Smith and Co., importers of New York and Chicago, passed away Tuesday, April 22, at St. Luke Hospital. Mr. Ward was born in Elizabeth, N.J., and came to Los Angeles 53 years ago. In 1891 he purchased property in Sierra Madre and subsequently came here to make his home. Mr. Ward is survived by his wife, Mrs. Maud Ellen Ward; one son, Edwin Waldo Ward Jr.; a brother, Irving N. Ward, and three grandchildren, Geraldine Proctor Ward, Elizabeth Jane Ward, and Richard Huntington Ward.

11 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, April 20, 1950—Donald C. Ashmore, for 26 years a Sierra Madre resident, passed away early Sunday morning, apparently a victim of a heart attack. Mr. Ashmore, an optometrist, came to Sierra Madre in 1911. He was master of Sierra Madre Lodge, No. 408, F.A.M., in 1925, the year the Masonic Temple was dedicated. He served several years as president of the Library Board and was on the City Council for a short time after being appointed to fill a vacancy.

Sierra Madre's population is estimated at 7,438, according to a quarterly report by the County Regional Planning Commission. A year ago it was estimated at 7,302. According to figures compiled in the 1940 Federal census, the city then had 4,581 residents.

6 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, April 21, 1955—In the first 1955 Sierra Madre Tennis Tournament at City Park last week the winning team was composed of H. Bogardus and Mrs. Sylvia Woehler. Playing in competition of 24 entries, the runners-up were Ricky Schmidt and W. P. Smythe, the latter Mrs. Woehler's father. During the tournament thanks were given by Byron Hopper, Sierra Madre Jeweler, who assisted in the contribution of the tennis trophies.

Two armed bandits, expertly disguised, stole $1,100 to $1,200 in currency and coins from the Wistaria Vine Association by entering the home of Councilman Lorne Pratt, 677 Canyon Crest Dr. At gunpoint, they forced their way into the Pratt home Sunday night about 9:30 o'clock. Councilman Pratt is public relations man for the Vine Association.

Theoretical wisdom often turns into a mass of practical folly.

Be a leader—don't follow in the footsteps of your competitor.

taxpayers for nearly every major program. Now let's look at some of the items:

WE WERE NICKED $56 million more for social welfare aid payments; $39 million more for public schools; $49 million more for other local education; a whopping $121 million more for higher education; $66 million more for highways; $53 million more for construction of college facilities and the state university, and $38 million more for natural resources.

And all this under the Governor Brown Administration. Small wonder thousands of California voters are beginning to look to the Republican Party for relief, come next year's gubernatorial election.

MT. ALVERNO GUILD will stage its second annual "Wedding Bells Home Tour" on May 3 and here we view a closeup of some of those making the arrangements. From the left, Cathy DePasco, Mrs. Anthony P. DePasco, Christina Nelson, Mrs. Gordon K. Nelson and Mrs. James D. Burke.

'Song Of Siberia'

FOREWORD—David, young Hungarian violinist, had written a Song of Freedom which was first taken to Siberia by young Hungarians following the Budapest revolt. We have read how it was spirited back to Budapest, then to West Berlin for consideration by the Underground Movement, and thence back to Budapest in a surprise ambush of Russian Communists. In the last section we learned of the terrific reprisals ushered in by the Communist overlords in Budapest. Now go on with the story.

By Den and Martha Murray

The commissar continued, looking from Bela to the battered proprietor of the Istaban, "And you two agree that this mountain of brains"—pointing at Big Gol—"introduced the song to Budapest at the Cafe Istaban. And that it was being joyously sung and copied down when Lt. Pavlichenko's arrival put an end to it."

Bela nodded his averted head. The cafe proprietor, prodded by a guard's elbow, bubbled an affirmative through the blood on his smashed lips.

"And you, Lt. Pavlichenko, were present in the cafe that memorable night while pursuing Col. Tornov's private investigation, heard the song, and reported the fact to Col. Tornov."

The lieutenant, deathly pale, stammered, "As I—I told you before, sir, I was not sure it was the song."

Vilanovitch commented acidly, "Oh? But it didn't occur to you or the colonel to report your suspicions to me immediately. After all, I wouldn't have been interested. I'm only in charge of Hungarian internal affairs."

CHAPTER 55

AS THE BLOOD rushed back into the lieutenant's pale cheeks and Tornov strangled on his rage, Vilanovitch leaned back in his chair like a jurist rendering final judgment. To the bewildered Big Gol he said wistfully, "So you thought it was a love song, eh?"

Big Gol muttered vacuously, "That's what Radnak said it was."

Vilanovitch sighed sarcastically to the M.P.'s, "Take him back to the Red Army for advancement in rank." As they obeyed, Vilanovitch informed Lt. Pavlichenko, "I am not attaching blame to you, lieutenant. Obviously you were only carrying out the secret orders of your superior. You may go."

The lieutenant's departure brought up the cafe proprietor's turn. "Siberia," said Vilanovitch. Only Tornov and Bela remained. To the latter, who had now raised his head, Vilanovitch said with malicious appreciation, "Go. You're as free as a bird."

CHAPTER 56

IN MUNICH, Germany, the headquarters of Radio Free Europe and Europe Free Press lay under siege. The world was demanding to know what was happening in Hungary. It had been 48 hours since monitoring Western stations had picked up the astonishing "Song of Siberia" on Radio Budapest. The continuing silence since had convinced everyone that again something big and violent was afoot there. But the Hungarian border was sealed. Budapest wasn't talking. The Kremlin was silent. Hence, news representatives and even important diplomats were asking the one source that usually knew: "What is happening in Hungary?"

Radio Free Europe and Europe Free Press did know, of course. They had known weeks in advance what would be attempted. But they were waiting for details on the results obtained.

A Prof. Arpad, current leader of the Freedom Fighters, was to withhold himself from the action for this purpose. Arpad's report finally came.

Using a secret Joint Council telephone just inside the Austrian border he delivered his remarkable account.

Europe Free Press hastily rounded out their already prepared news releases and turned them loose to snatching hands. Radio Free Europe went on the air with its multiple transmitters beaming from widely divergent points the dramatic story behind the "Song of Siberia," together with the many varying renditions of the song itself.

Renowned vocalists of almost every nationality in Europe sang it to their own countrymen in their native tongue. Massive choral backgrounds, superb artistry by great orchestras, combined with the distinguished soloists to flood the air over Europe with music of celestial grandeur. Heaven itself seemed to be broadcasting!

The frenzied jamming efforts of the Communists were literally drowned. Poles, East Germans, Czechs, Rumanians, Estonians, Latvians, Lithuanians, Bulgars, Serbs, Croats, Yugo-Slavs, Hungarians, Russians—all Europe, thrilled.

The world press gave it front page priority. Radio and television gave it special news bulletin interruptions in all programs. In America, Hollywood was instantly chattering about making a film based on the story. Writers were jumping for their typewriters to pound out original treatments. Producers were rushing to their guild offices to register titles.

Leading figures in the industry agreed that this was Hollywood's heaven-sent opportunity to at long last show the world where Hollywood really stood in the titanic war between Communism and Freedom.

Another installment of the "Song of Siberia" next week.

Railroads and Teamsters in Squabble

By Henry C. MacArthur
(Capital News Service—Special to the Sierra Madre News)

SACRAMENTO—The California Legislature is being asked to enter into the controversy between railroads and Teamsters Union in Congress over the use of piggy-back transportation which involves the railroad hauling of trucks over long distances.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 39, by Senator Pandolph Collier (D-Siskiyou), asks the California delegation in Congress to oppose legislation introduced at the instance of the Teamsters Union. The Congressional legislation would prevent the Interstate Commerce Commission from fixing rates designed to lower costs to ultimate consumers.

It is, of course, inevitable in a country where business is supposed to be based on free enterprise, that rival methods of transportation would conflict insofar as freight hauling is concerned.

THERE WAS A TIME when the railroads had all of the long haul business, and most of the short haul as well. The railroads displaced the freight wagons. Then along came better highways, bigger and better trucks, and this method of transportation started displacing the railroads.

However, the rails developed a combination means of transportation, of hauling loaded trucks and/or trailers over long distances, which was thought to be satisfactory to everyone, particularly the consuming public, which benefitted as the result of lowered haulage rates, and the motoring public as well, which benefitted by having a lot of trucks off the roads, highways and freeways.

But the arrangement is not satisfactory to the Teamsters Union, which controls hiring of truck drivers across the land. The union claims piggyback hauling is cutting the job opportunities for its members, and seeks to destroy, through Federal legislation, the advantages to the public of this method of freight transportation.

IT IS UNDERSTANDABLE that the Teamsters Union would seek through any means possible to keep its members in employment.

What is not understandable, however, is the circumvention of the principle that the public is entitled to the cheapest and most efficient transportation it can get as long as this is in accord with health, welfare and safety.

Certainly the removal of trucks from the highways promotes safety. One instance is the run on U.S. 40 from San Francisco to Reno, where it is estimated as many as 5,000 trucks a day are hauled by railroad, thereby relieving the pressure on the highways for automobile traffic.

AND WHEN the railroads can do the job cheaper, in some instances as much as 50 per cent below trucking costs for hauling automobiles, the public benefits through lowered costs of transportation from factory to market.

If there is a battle between the teamsters and the railroads, the public should not be made the scapegoat, and be forced to pay unnecessary costs of transportation, merely to keep some truck drivers on the job. The day of the mule-skinner has passed, and progress should not be halted for expediency.

Perhaps some day the freight will all go by air!

500 Scouts At Order of Arrow Meet

Five hundred Boy Scouts and Explorers, representing seven Scout Councils from San Gabriel Valley, Santa Barbara and the Greater Los Angeles Area, arrived at the Rosemead High School last Friday for the sixth annual Conference of Order of the Arrow.

The honor camping society of the Boy Scouts of America assembled for a three-day training and fellowship conference. Phillip E. Farrell, Pasadena, was conference chairman.

Highlighting the meeting was a keynote address Saturday evening by Wendell Noble, prominent Glendale banker. Official welcome was extended by Lee B. Harbottle, Scout executive, and A. B. Halverson, president of the San Gabriel Valley Council.

Camping in teepees erected on the high school football field, the Scouts attracted hundreds of visitors to the spectacular and unusual camp display. Meals were provided in the school cafeteria by Council winter camp cook, Gus Wilson of El Monte.

THE CAMPFIRE program Saturday evening at the camp area featured the Barbarettes, girls drill team from Santa Barbara, the Dixie Six-Plus Two from La Canada, and Order of the Arrow dance teams from each of the seven Councils. Nobby Schnabel, Los Angeles, was campfire Chief.

Wes Klusman, national director for camping from New Brunswick, N.J., presented the closing challenge on Sunday. Klusman, assisted by David Martin, deputy regional executive of Region 12, coordinated the discussion groups.

Ta Tanka Lodge, under the direction of Chief Tom Gerfen, Advisor Donald Nafius and Jack Hoag, camping services director of the San Gabriel Valley Council, developed the conference plans with area leaders. This is the first time the San Gabriel Valley Council served as host for this event.

San Gabriel Scouters assisting with arrangements included James Fryer, San Gabriel; George Funk, Covina; Irving Thompson and John Morse, Arcadia, and Norman Shanks, Pasadena. All are active advisors to Chapers of Ta Tanka Lodge.

SCOUT SYD THOMPSON, Arcadia, headed the discussion group of publications.

Thompson is editor of Smoke Signals, the La Tanka Lodge publication which is rated among the best of Order of Arrow publications.

Protestant church services on Sunday morning were conducted for Scouts of Protestant faith by Glen Thompson of the Trinity Presbyterian Church, Pasadena. Scouts of Catholic faith participated in the services of nearby churches.

The Topa Topa Lodge of the Ventura County Scout Council has been proposed as hosting the 1962 Area 12E Conference.

Nursery School's Goat 'Kidnaped'

Some prankster thought he'd have a lot of fun by hiding a pet goat at the Nursery School in Sierra Vista Park in one of the outside cupboards. To make sure the goat would remain there, he locked the cupboard door.

The missing goat was reported to police. Meanwhile, after a brief nap, the goat bleated with all its might, its bleatings were heard and it was promptly released from the cupboard.

By Karen Thompson

The threatening clouds parted just in time on Saturday, April 22, for the 173rd showing of "Ramona," located in a natural amphitheater under the peak of Mt. San Jacinto.

"Ramona," produced by the Hemet and San Jacinto Chambers of Commerce, moved from the Spanish rancho on a hillside to the well-placed rocks and Indian shacks exactly in front of the hillside seats.

The players were able, the Spanish costumes brilliant; there were shining horses, Indians, bad men and good men liable to pop up any time from the various shrubs and rocks.

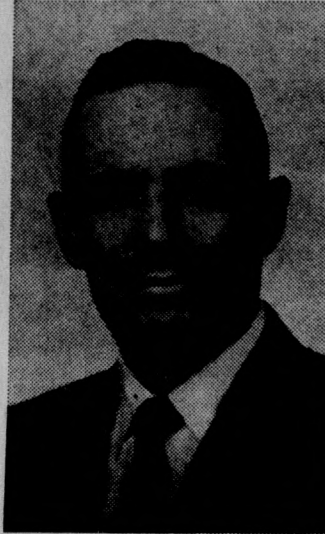

ANN DANIELS as Ramona and Maurice Jara as Alessandro were the only players from outside the Hemet-San Jacinto Valley. This fact displayed the versatile talent found in those communities. Various club and other organizations helped supply the work needed to produce such an extensive offering.

The play is produced six times yearly and is a strictly non-profit enterprise. The Ramona Bowl, locale for the play, also serves as a community gathering place for such events as the Easter sunrise service and graduation festivities.

The capacity crowd of nearly 5,300 and cast of more than 350 enjoyed the cool breezes which occasionally fanned the canyon.

Baker Takes Freeway Post In Argentina

Robert Bryant Baker, son of Mrs. Gale E. Williams of 421 Mariposa Ave., who for the past eight and one-half years has been in Venezuela as a consultant on projects in connection with the United States Steel mining operations in that country, has accepted the position of project manager in Argentina on the new freeway project between Buenos Aires and Rosario. Mr. Baker departed for Buenos Aires Thursday, April 20.

Mr. Baker has worked outside the United States for the past few years. His work has taken him to Canada, Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, Lebanon, Iraq and Venezuela.

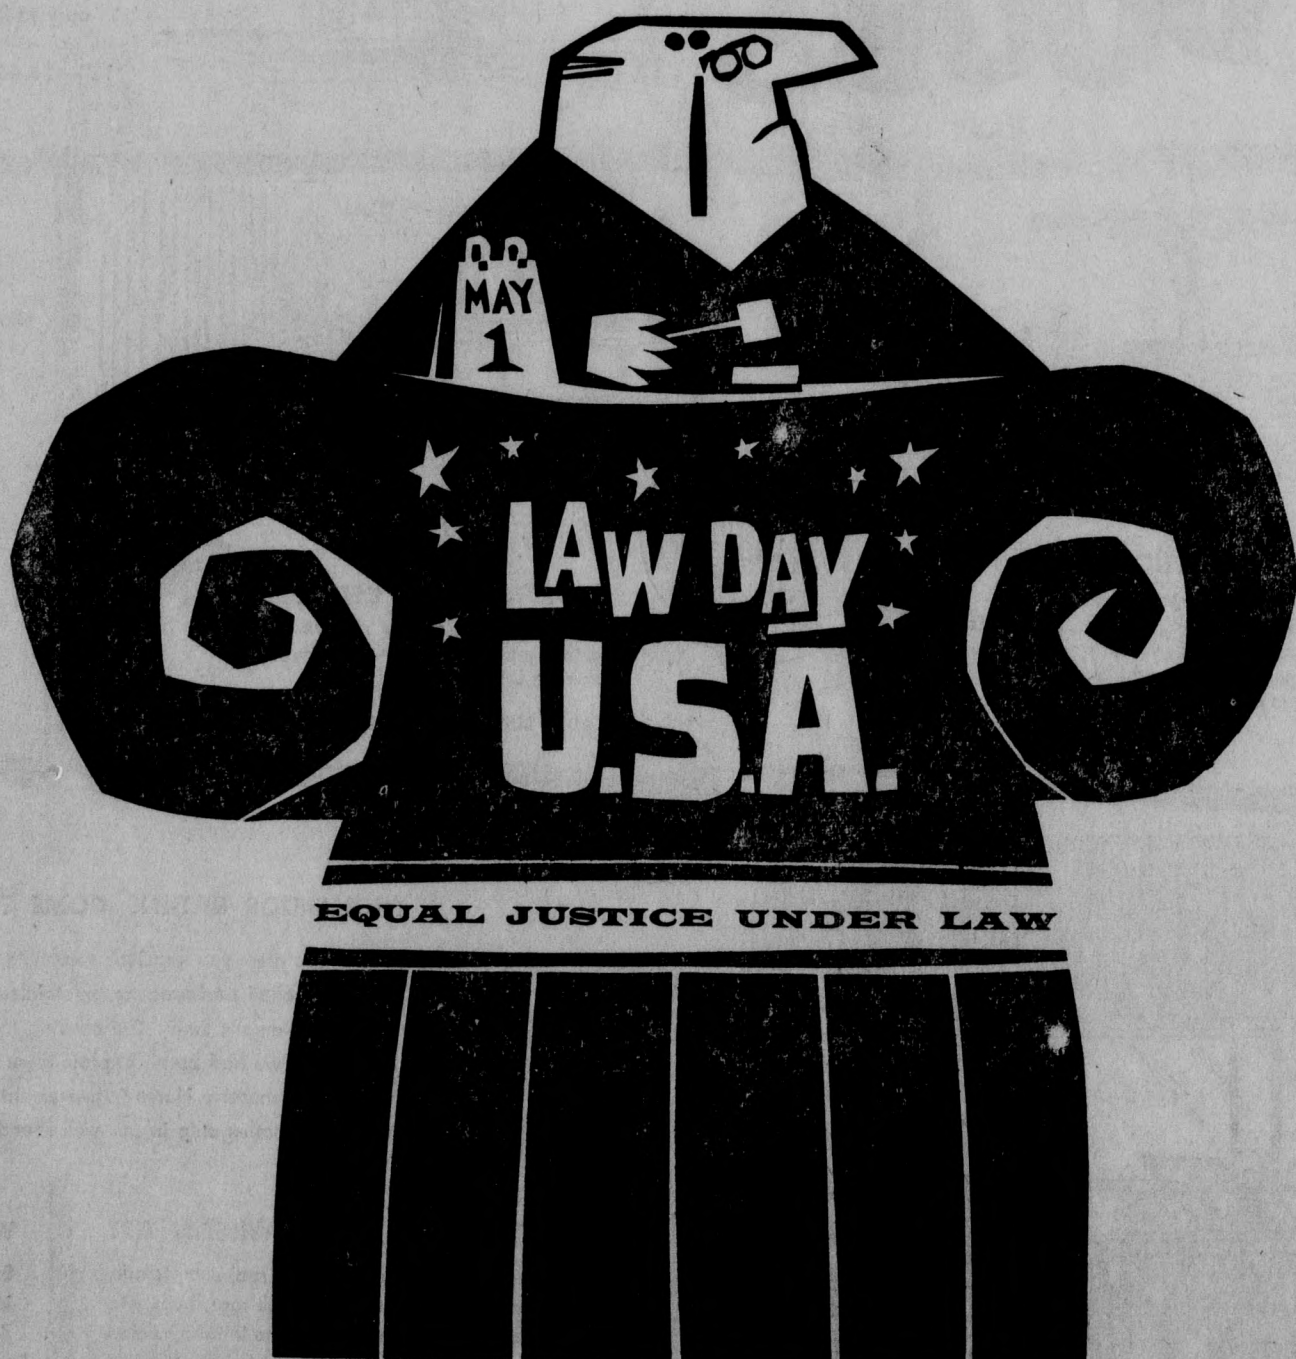

HAVING LIVED the past few years in Venezuela, both Mr. and Mrs. Baker enjoy and understand the Latin American people. They have worked heart-to-heart with the Latin Americans — Mr. Baker in the field of construction and Mrs. Baker in the field of education. Both look forward to their new assignment in Argentina.

Mrs. Baker has returned to her mother's home in Iowa for a two months' visit, after which she will join Mr. Baker in Argentina.

Mower Repairer Hurt Accidentally

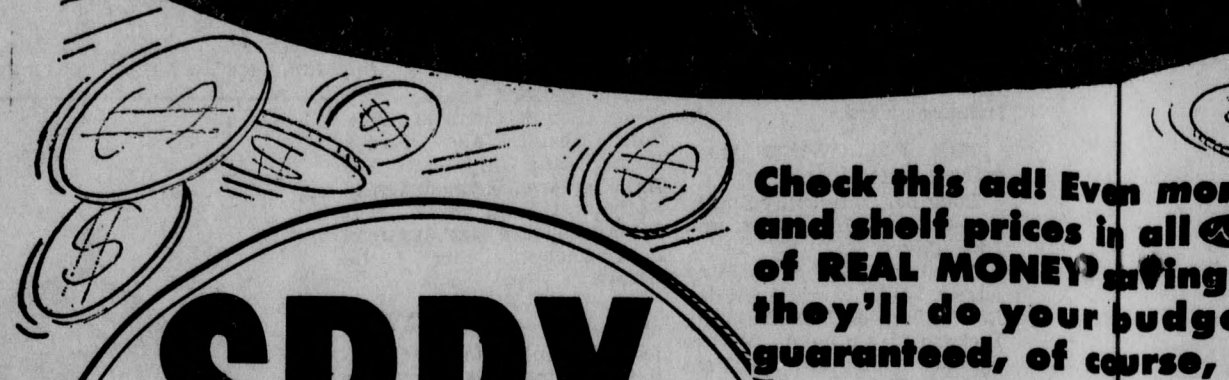

Accidentally, Lawrence W. Fuller, 33, of 240 Mariposa, was the victim of a mishap Sunday which first sent him to Sierra Madre Community Hospital for X-rays and thence to his home with a swollen and bruised back.

Mr. Fuller was leaning over repairing his motor-lawn cutter when a car, operated, police report, by his neighbor Maynard F. Swarthout of 242 Mariposa, backed into him. Mr. Swarthout was backing out of his garage.

Mrs. Embree Chairman at Orchid Show

Mrs. Alvin G. (Emily) Embree of 214 W. Carter is chairman of the ribbon judging for flower arrangements and corsages at the third annual Southland Orchid Show Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Los Angeles State and County Arboretum at Arcadia.

With a "Polynesian Holiday" for its theme, the show will be open to the public from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Friday and Saturday, and from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday. Admission is free.

RARE BLOOMS representing hundreds of different types of orchids in over 40 different genera, and valued at more than $150,000, will be displayed in Polynesian settings, woodland and waterfall scenes, and other beautiful and natural arrangements.

More than 27,000 people saw the show last year, for greater attendance than at almost any other orchid show throughout the world. This year there will be increased parking facilities and display areas to take care of visitors. Entrance to the show will be through the main Arboretum entrance, and the show itself will occupy a three-acre plot north of the Library Building.

Stealing Bicycle, Piece by Piece

Thieves, young, it is believed, are attempting to steal a bicycle, piece by piece, from the Robert George home, 245 Santa Anita Court.

First, they took handlebar grips from the bicycle parked in the Georgeon garage. The next night, they removed the top of the bell and took the bike pump.

Just to make sure the entire bicycle didn't vanish, the Georgeons notified police.

City Planning Commission In Three Votes Holds Up Yarnell Rest Home Move

Following vigorous protests by more than a score of angry property owners, the Sierra Madre Planning Commission last Thursday night denied Neil K. Yarnell of 10 N. Mountain Trail a conditional permit to erect a rest home at that address.

Yarnell, who recently resigned from the City Planning Commission, had hoped to sell the property to Charles M. Rhodes, proprietor of the Glenhaven Lodge, a rest home, at 405 Churchill Rd., Sierra Madre.

While the Planning Commission stymied the Yarnell proposal, the way is left, however, through an appeal to City Council. This, presumably, will be taken by Yarnell's counsel, Atty. Norren Eaton. Determined opposition to any such move is certain from its opponents.

THERE ALWAYS is a possibility of the Yarnell proposal going through partially through the Planning Commission's decision to advance the property classification from R-1 to R-3. There is a wooden structure which, it is pointed out, could be converted into a rest home if the fire protection conditions can be met.

It took three votes by the commission to decide the issue. The first, a move to grant a conditional permit, was 3 to 3; the second, to disapprove such permission, was 3 to 3, and the third was decided by Chairman Frank R. Parks' switch of vote against the move. City Councilman Lorraine W. Lisle, liaison between Council and Planning Commission, was not present at the meeting.

IN ADDITION to the more than a score of protesters stating their opposition to the Yarnell proposal, the opposition was augmented by several petitions signed by property owners in the area.

The Planning Commission postponed until the May meeting a measure designed to curb irregular measured lots in the R-1, 2 and 3 classifications. Under this lot could not deviate more than 10 feet on either side from front to back.

Men learn from experience that a lot of bluffing can be done by keeping a stiff upper lip.

Marched Off 63 Years Ago

It was 63 years ago last Sunday April 23, that Capt. E. G. Everett marched off with his company of the 13th Minnesota National Guard for Camp Ramsey, St. Paul, to train for service in the Spanish-American War. That was in 1898 and young Everett already had been a Guardsman four years.

The captain, a Sierra Madrean for many years and now a resident at 478 Ramona, was to participate in widespread fighting in the Philippines before he returned to Minnesota.

He was in the forefront on the firing line when Manila was captured on Aug. 13, 1898. Beginning on Sept. 1 that year his company was one of 12 which policed the Philippine capital, no mean task in view of the already growing unrest.

THE PHILIPPINE insurrection, with the able and fiery Aguinaldo as its leader, broke out in February, 1899, and on March 17 the Minnesota boys were rushed out to the battle zones. There they took part in the long and fierce fighting through which the revolt in Leyte and Mindanao was finally quelled.

Capt. Everett was unable to attend his regimental reunion in Minneapolis last summer but hopes to do so this Aug. 13.

Chief Details How You Can Foil Burglars

Coming up, "Burglary Prevention Week," April 30-May 6.

Chief Gordon G. McMillan says so and to make it doubly official Mayor W. Webster Vannier has issued a proclamation.

From January to September last year, there were 23 burglaries in Sierra Madre and many of those resulted from carelessness and probably could have been prevented.

Homes account for four out of every ten burglaries and Chief McMillan suggests the following preventives:

LEAVE two or three lights "on" in the house during evening hours. Timers that automatically turn lamps on and off every day, are available and are especially useful when a family is away on vacation. Lights going on and off every evening create a "lived-in" appearance in the home and confuse and discourage a would-be burglar.

Put good locks on all outside doors. It is not uncommon to find substantial jimmy-proof locks on the front and back doors, but with the cheapest possible lock holding an outside porch door.

French doors, too, are usually secured with only the flimsiest sort of device.

Windows are usually a weak point in most homes, too. Screens and storm windows should be hooked on the inside to prevent them from being lifted off their frame. Safety latches which permit windows to open only part way, sufficient for ventilation, also are a good idea.

Since some burglars are expert climbers, be sure to use them on second floor windows.

STOP ALL deliveries when leaving for a vacation. It is better to call the dairy than leave a note for the milkman; burglars can read, too.

Have your newspaper forwarded to your vacation spot and you'll be able to keep up on all the local news.

Talk to your post office about holding your mail and ask a neighbor to pick up circulars or handbills that might be left on your porch while you are gone.

Make certain that drapes or shades are not completely drawn. Leave them as you normally would when you are home.

Always close your garage door. An empty garage with door open will catch the attention of any thief and indicate no one is home.

Kindergartners Register May 2-3

Kindergarten registration at Sierra Madre School will be Tuesday, May 2, from 9 to 11 a.m., according to Principal Ed E. Hawkins.

Children residing in any area west of Mountain Trail should register at Sierra Madre School. Sierra Mesa School will register pupils east of Mountain Trail during the same hours, Wednesday, May 3.

Kindergarten pupils are those born from Dec. 3, 1955, to Dec. 2, 1956, inclusive. Birth certificates are required at registration, but it is not necessary to bring the children.

Pacific Rose Group Show On This Week

The Pacific Rose Society will present its 23rd annual Rose and Flower Arrangement Show next Saturday and Sunday, April 29 and 30, in the four Fannie E. Morrison Horticultural Center buildings in Brookside Park, Pasadena (just south of the Rose Bowl).

Many prominent rose growing companies will have exhibits of their latest creations at the show and there will be a large display of the popular miniature roses.

Well known rosarians from throughout Southern California will give short talks on rose culture every hour on the hour, and there will be door prize drawings every hour for many new rose bushes which have not yet been introduced to the general public. There also will be other valuable door prizes. The rosarians and other garden consultants will be on hand throughout the show to answer questions.

MISS GAIL FARRAR, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. King Farrar of San Gabriel, will be crowned queen of the show at 2 p.m. on Saturday. Thousands saw this beautiful show last year which all amateur rose growers and flower arrangers are invited to enter and to compete for ribbons, prizes and 35 trophies and awards. Schedules listing the rose and flower arrangement classes may be obtained by writing immediately to the society at 1044 Olive Lane, La Canada, Calif.

"FUNNY THING HAPPENED... on the way to Glendale Federal today..."

Left home with a busy schedule of things to do ... first on the list: drop by Glendale Federal to add to the family savings. Convenient ... easy ... Love that Glendale Federal ... so does husband Steve. On way, mail letter to mother ...

Ran into neighbor Don at corner mailbox ... he's the neighborhood Little League coach. We have a lot in common ... I wasn't surprised to learn that his family saves at Glendale Federal ... he has trust accounts there, too. Something I didn't know.

Also family lawyer and brother of Steve's

Coffee with Beverly to plan our Square Dance Club benefit hoedown. Told Beverly about Don and Glendale. Beverly told me about Glendale, too. She's the club treasurer ... and our club account has always been at Glendale Federal. No wonder our treasury grows. Smart gal, Bev.

Smarter, even, than I thought. Her new nursery is divine! ... mostly white and pink, so that both pink and blue will look all right. She and Allan built the new nursery with a Home Improvement Loan from -- guess who? Glendale Federal! Was I surprised? Well ... not really.

Lunch with husband Steve and Steve's Dear Dad. Dad's golf is improving. Dad had to leave early to make a date with (here we go again!) Glendale Federal. He and most of his associates have some of their Investment Funds at Glendale Federal. Isn't that impressive ...? Steve and I exchanged winks.

Dinner (my new veal casserole that Steve loves) at home, with friends. Reviewed day with Steve. We decided that we're not the only ones. EVERYBODY LOVES GLENDALE FEDERAL. Didn't dare tell Steve that I didn't make it to Glendale Federal. Tomorrow. First thing! (Veal casserole a big success!)

Cemetery Cleanup Planned Before Memorial Day

Commander William Annas of Embree Post No. 3208, Veterans of Foreign Wars, yesterday appealed to all members, Boy Scouts and friends to assist in cleaning up Sierra Madre cemetery preparatory to the annual exercises on Memorial Day, May 30, at 11 a.m. in the cemetery.

Dates for the cleanups are: Sundays, May 7, 21 and 28, starting at 9 a.m. For further information phone the VFW Club, ELgin 5-9066, or Commander Annas, ELgin 5-7740.

S. M. Writers Will Attend Meetings

Sierra Madre writers who will assist in the seventh annual Pasadena Writers' Week observance, opening Monday, May 1, include Margaret A. Duran, Eda C. Hobson, Elsie R. Larsen, Idella Pu Stone, Elsie S. Uyematsu and Violet V. Verreux.

Morning sessions will be held at Pasadena Public Library, 285 E. Walnut St.; evening sessions in Harbeson Hall, Pasadena City College.

Mrs. Watts Aids Celebration of Secretaries Week

Foothill Chapter, National Secretaries Association, is commemorating Secretaries Week, April 23-29, by awarding two scholarships to outstanding secretarial students and by holding open house to which all secretaries are invited to attend.

'Goose-Egg' Legislature Hurries On

By Edwin Capes

SACRAMENTO — (CNS)—The end of a somewhat dull and uninteresting session of the State Legislature is in sight, with completion of the bill introduction period, and the final roundup of bills and constitutional amendments before the Assembly and Senate.

The Legislature has until June 16 to finish its work, which no doubt could have finished long before the present date, considering the character of bills produced so far, which have had no major import on either economy or laws of the state.

There has been no effort to effect economies in government, weed out useless functions and thereby pave the way for a less costly operation. Instead, there have been many moves which would increase the cost of government, even above and beyond the $2½ billion budget still under consideration by the two houses.

GOVERNMENT reorganization plans, which were touted at the beginning of the legislative session as a major aim of Governor Edmund G. Brown's Administration, are still in committee. There is little if any talk of putting them through, or even attempting to get them out of committee and to a vote of the Legislature. Water legislation has been discussed by both houses. The Assembly has passed bills, and the Senate has passed bills. But it is freely predicted neither house will adopt the proposals of the other house, particularly with regard to legislative approval of contracts between the state and water districts.

This, of course, is a major victory for the Administration. It would leave the entire development of the state water plan, and expenditure of the $1,750,000,000 bond issue voted by the people last November, in the hands of the Administration.

COMMENT on the advisability of this bond issue is still making the rounds, despite the fact it was voted by the people to solve California's water problem. The comment, particularly from Northern California representatives, is to the effect that the bond issue was and is ill-advised, as Southern California will wind up with most of the water conserved in the North.

Little progress is being made on anti-narcotics legislation. The Legislature apparently will wind up with some additional penalties, which will be stiffer than those now on the statute books. But insufficient legislation for an all-out campaign against distribution and sale of narcotics has not, and probably will not be enacted, according to enforcement officers.

The stalemate in legislation appears to be not so much lack of leadership as it does the effect of controversial and progressive legislation would have on the future of California politics.

ALTHOUGH the Democrats have the bit in their teeth, it is said they are reluctant to proceed with real issues which would create campaign material next year, and give Republicans a chance to build up propaganda for a future Republican governor.

And the Republicans, who have some progressive issues in the Legislature, don't have the votes to put them across. The result—a goose-egg!

contribution, the expansion of facilities and program for preschoolers at the Community Nursery School, an organization which already has brought worldwide fame to Sierra Madre," says Mrs. Kohler, president, in her announcement of the Civic Club's decision.

Youth Group Will Discuss Industry Day

Discussion and evaluation of the Sierra Madre Youth in Business and Industry Day will be the main item of business at the next regular Youth Council meeting on May 3, from 5 to 6 p.m., in the City Council Chambers.

The results of this evaluation, combined with evaluations of the businessmen participating and recommendations from the Sierra Madre Coordinating Council, will form basis of the final report and recommendations for future Youth Days in Sierra Madre.

Eighth and 9th graders, present and incoming, are especially invited to attend and start taking part in the planning of future Youth Council projects which will involve them more and more as they grow older.
